A Message from Coach Hodge

I am a Winner! Yet, along the way I have had my share of losses. I have lost jobs, homes, health, marriage, cars, crucial deals, and sometimes I felt like I was losing my mind. Yet, a lesson from a childhood friend has kept me focused through it all. In reference to the game of Chess he told me, "the more you play, the better you will become." This is one of the lessons that fuel my ambition to keep playing the game of life.

Along the way, I have learned many lessons from mentors, teachers, business leaders, spiritual messengers and beautifully honest children. Actually, it is those relationships that I credit with the success of my life. More than half of my life has been dedicated to developing people through delivering programs, workshops, communications consulting, motivational speaking, and facilitation services for a variety of individuals and organizations. Ironically, as I have empowered others to reach their highest potential, the relationship has helped me do the same.

Learning to win together is a core value of my work. As we bring out the power and potential of others, we all benefit. For this reason, I am committed to bringing out the best in others. This is one of the hallmarks of great leadership.

As an individual, leader or organization you also have a responsibility to inspire, develop and promote excellence and performance. In other words, you must be a winner. I can help.

Sincerely,

Harlan B. Hodge, MSW
